YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

Involving a Loss of $26,000.

Garver & Co.'s Ice House Destroyed,

A $5,000 Blaze in the Establishment of the Indianapolis Foundry Company.

During the storm yesterday afternoon the ice houses belonging to Mathias Garver & Co., situated near the west end of Seventh street, were struck by lightning and entirely destroyed by the conflagration which ensued. The flash which set fire to the building occurred between 4:30 and 5 o'clock. The mlarm of fire was sent in at once, and the engines from Nos. 5 and 3 and 1 responded. The work, however, was very inefficient. and for all practical purposes the Department might as well have remained at home. The ice houses which were destroyed were nwied by Mathias Garver and Christian Dunmeyer, and were built just north of the leves of the Butsch ice pond. There were ten houses, two of which were built 2wo years ago, one at each end of the row, and each of them being 185 feet in length. The others were much smaller, but all were filled with ice. Mr. Garver was seen by a reporter last night, and stated that he estimated the buildings at from $10,000 to $12,000. He said he had 85,000 tons of ice in the houses, and that while this was not by many means a total loss, yet the firm would lose much because of the difficulty in taking care of it in its present condition, it being melted into holes and in such an irregular manner as to make it difficult to pack straw about it properly. He thought some of the houses could have been saved if the engines could have been run down the side of the row, but the ground being soft it was imposmible to do this. Engine No 5 stood on the manal bank and ran out over a quarter of a mile of bose, but, the distance being so great, it was impossible to throw much of a stream from the end of the line, and, added to this difficulty, the hose broke badly in many places. The beys finally wound up the hose and retired. Engine No. 1 ran down to the Butsch pond, but it was a work of some time to get the engine placed in such a position as to enable the boys to throw water. No. 3 ran as far as the Coffin Works and stopped, it being useless for the company to go further.

Garver, will be over $14,000, but this is only an approximate estimate, of course. On the buildings the company carried $9,900 insurance, and on the ice $3,600, the insurance being placed by N. N. Morris & Co., as fol-

One thing which makes the loss of the company heavier than it would otherwise be is the scarcity of straw in the country. This the firm must procure, if possible, for covering the ice, and as farmers are busy with their spring work they will not haul the straw to the city, even where they have it for sale. Last year the insurance on the ice was $5,000, but it was reduced this year so as to only cover the cost of cutting and storing away. As soon as possible the houses will be rebuilt.

In conversation with Mr. Dwyer last evening he stated that it has been against the judgment of insurance companies to insure ice-houses and contents on account of the frequency with which they are destroyed, and that he would not be surprised if they refuse further risks of this character.

THY FOUNDRY PIRE.

Just before noon yesterday the machine department of the Indianapolis Foundry Company was badly wrecked by fire and the other departments were more or less injured by water. The building, which is a frame, is situated at the corner of Pine and Bates streets, the fire originating in the japanning room and causing a loss of upward of $5,000. There was some damage also to the cupola and engine room, as well as the private office, but the principal pattern room and the molding department e-caped a heavy spisshing of water. Several days will be required to repair damages. The foundry is owned by a company headed by E. M. Johnson, President, and Samuel Schuch, Super-Frank Redmod financially interested therein. The insurance was located with the Names Positions of the names will occupy: Gregory & Appel agency, and aggregated $7,100 in the following companies: West-Chester, of New York, $3,100; Phoenix, of London, $2,000; Home, of California, $2,000. The first alarm was sounded by the tower watch and about the same time two boxes in the immediate neighborhood were pulled, making great confusion of signals.

THE DORIS CIRCUS.

Two Excellent Exhibitions Yesterday-The Performance To-Day.

John B. Doris' Great Inter Ocean Circus and Menagerie opened the season in this city yesterday under great difficulties, but notwithstanding the inclement weather two excellent exhibitions were given. The grand street parade at 10 a. m. was all that could be desired. It was witnessed by hundreds of people, and the splendid appearance which the animals and wagons presented created no little comment. The afternoon performance began at 2 o'clock, and several hundred people were seated under the mammoth canvas. It is safe to say that every seat would have been that met the eye on entering the menagerie tent was Krao, one of the most wonderful fresks of nature ever placed on exhibition. No show in the country can surpass this one in the extent and variety of its features, and certainly there is no man-sger who has so unvaryingly satisfied his nu-merous patrons, and it is impossible to enumerate all the special attractions of this mammoth show. The great fifty-cage menagerie and circus have been greatly enlarged since last season, and now are the completest ever given to the public. There are just fifty different acts to be seen in the rings, which embrace, besides the grand circus performances of wonderful riding, tumbling, vaulting, leaping, high-ladder maneuvers, presenting thrilling and startling schievements. classic posturing, troupe of French bicycle riders, fourteen genuine brawny Turks, the Siberian roller skaters, ten cham-

the flying meteors of the world, in their new sensational erial trapeze feats; Misses Ella O'Harrow Was "Gently Detained" to Stokes and Sallie Marks, the well-known equestriennes, are among the many stars. These famous artists are so well and favorably known that praise is simply superfluous. as they have no equals. Three Panchet Brothers, gymnasta; Prince Yahmada's Japanese Circus; Katamorpa, empress of the reptile world; Redmond Brothers, classic posturing; M'lles Celeste and Lizette, flying rings and trapeze artists; three Milo Brothers, athletes; May Antonio, wire $3,800 money package, which was afterward walkist, three German aerialists, M'lle De- found in the safe at the depot office. After Granville, Mons. Duval, Professor Hamilton's dog circus, a troupe of Turkish knife throwers, and a meteoric host, in fact, whose names space forbids the mention of, but whose fame is worldly established. Owing to the fact that the bars were placed too far apart, the Fisher Brothers were unable to perform their wonderful serial trapaze feats vesterday afternoon. The bars were rearranged immediately after the performance, however, and in the evening they went through with their act without any difficulty. Another grand street parade will place this morning at 10 o'clock, and performances afternoon and evening. Mr. Doris has spent considerable money here since the beginning of last winter, and the citizens should patronize him liberally.

THE STORM.

Yesterday's Visitation and What it Accomplished - Effect at the Telephone Exchange.

One of the heaviest thunder storms that has prevailed in this city during the present season visited it between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but beyond the destruction of the ice-houses, elsswhere reported, very little damage was done. For nearly an hour firsh after flash of lightning followed each other in quick succession, and was succeeded almost instantaneously by loud claps of thunder. One flash in particular appeared to be playing around the nose of every pedestrian, and a Sentinel reporter, who was crossing Washington street at the time, imsgined that he could feel the heated atmosphere as the flash passed before his eyes. A number of persons on the street at the time ducked their heads as though dodging from the flash, and with very few exceptions they sought shelter in the nearest store.

A rumor was current last night that a gentleman had been nearly stripped of his clothing by lightning on South Meridian street, but that he remained unhurt. The incident is said to have happened near Foster's tailoring establishment, but an indus. says that on said 30th day of December, trious attempt to run it down failed to get anything better than rumer.

Judge Gresham's house on North Tennessee street was struck during the storm, but no material damage was sustained. Also, the residence of a Mr. Fenton, living on North Meridian street.

Mr. F. M. Herron attempted to use his telephone during the storm and received an electric shock, from the effects of which he was complaining an hour afterward when seen by a Sentinel reporter. He promised to indulge no more in such luxuries, even though the price of telephones had been so materially reduced by the late Legislature. The man in charge of the Telephone Ex-change gives a graphic description of the thunder storm night before last and its effects upon the instruments of which he has charge. When a current of electricity comes in contact with the wires "drop" at the Exchange falls in the same manner as when the bell is rung to call for exchange connections. Taking this as a guide the storm of night before last made a partial circuit of the city before Then followed in their order Danville, Lebanon, Neblesville, Anderson, Columbus, Crawfordsville, Shelbyville and Acton. Then, it was experienced here. The "drop" on the Greencastle toll line was the first to fall. coming into the city, "drops" on the Virginia avenue line began to fall, and in with the entire southern part of the city were down. In passing over the city the storm took a northwesterly course as indicated by the "drops" at the Exchange, those connecting with that quarter falling as the storm passed away. Many of the cords at the Exchange, as well as at private residences and business houses, were to be made before the instruments can be the Meridian, which promises to furnish plenty of excitement. The "actors" who will entertain upon this occasion, which is said to be the event of the rink season, have intendent, with Captain Frank Miller and in the city. Below is a list of the names with been selected from among the best players named in the above table one would infer that they are lively, quick and active, while Johnson and Dietrichs appear to be deficient in their anatomy; but from good authority we learn that the first named are possessed of modest, retiring dispositions, consequently "slowly inclined," while the latter "society stars" are said to be proud of their model physical structures. Hence the "goak."

A Peculiar Warrant

Auditor Rice yesterday drew his warrant upon the Treasurer of State for the amount of the John Martin claim, about $55,000. The law authorizing its payment does not direct the Auditor to draw his warrant upon the Tressurer, as is the custom in such cases, but simply declares that he shall be paid upon the surrender of the certificate of indebtedness issued by the Provisional Board. The Attorney General held that the Auditor should issue the warrant, as it was manifestly the intention of the Legislature that the taken had the day been bright and pleasant.

The few hundred who were present, however, although they were compelled to return home in a drenching rain, felt amply repaid for their trouble. The first object issued by that official. After the opinion of the Attorney General was handed the Auditor, he concluded to withhold the warrant till Monday.

Seriously Injured.

Harrison Barkley, a colored man, who drives a coal cart for Ohr & Co., was seriously injured yesterday afternoon. While driving along Alabama street, when near the Central Station, one of the hind wheels of his cart broke and he was thrown out into the gutter, sustaining injuries about the head and body. Barkley was removed to his home in the northwestern part of the city, where he received medical attention.

Prevent Him From Loaving

the City. The attorneys of the Adams Express Company yesterday filed an answer in its $10,000 damage suit of John O'Harrow, who was arrested in January last, at the instance of the local agent, on a charge of appropriating a found in the safe at the depot office. After reciting O'Harrow's duties as night clerk, the answer says: "After the loss of the said packege, to wit, on the 1st of January, 1885, plaintiff said to this defendant and other officers and agents of said express company that no one was near him while he had the package who could have stolen it. He further stated that he knew that appearances were against him; that he did not blame them for think. ing he had stolen the package, and that he supposed there was sufficient evidence against him to send him to the penitentiary. "Said plaintiff failed to give prompt or reliable notice of the loss of said package to this defendant, as it was his duty to do, and did not give him notice until this defendant called upon him next day. He also failed and omitted when requested the next morning to give any explanation or information respecting the loss of said package, or as to how it passed or possibly might have passed out of his possession as night clerk. Defendant says that afterward at and before the commission of the supposed grievances in said first paragraph mentioned all the facts were within his knowledge, and were also known to other officers and agents of said company.

"That afterward, on the 2d day of January, this defendant had reasonable and probable cause to believe and did believe that said package had been stolen by plaintiff; that thereupon and without malice, to prevent plaintiff from escaping and fleeing, the defendant with certain other officers and agents did gently restrain plainpersonal liberty, using tiff of his no violence, until such reasonable time as the plaintiff might be delivered into the custody of the law to answer, for said felony, to-wit: during one night, which is the same supposed trespass in said paragraph mentioned.

"In the second paragraph of answer which is the second paragraph of complaint, the defendant enters into a particular description of the matter as above set out, and there 1884, at the city and county aforesaid the said plaintiff did feloniously steal, take and carry away said sealed package with its contents aforesaid. That afterwards, on the 2d day of January, 1885, this defendant had reasonable and probable cause to believe, and did believe, that said sealed package, with its contents, bad been so stelen by said plaintiff; that thereupon and without malice, to prevent plaintiff from escaping and fleeing, the defendant did, with certain other officers and agents of said express company, gently restrain the plaintiff of his personal liberty, using no violence until such reasonable time as the plaintiff might be delivered into the custody of the law to answer to such felony, to wit: during one night, which is the same supposed trespass in said paragraph mentioned.

"And for a third paragraph of answer to the entire complaint, this defendant says he denies each and every allegation of the plaintiff's complaint,"

A Brute Feiled.

Yesterday afternoon a tramp applied for werk at 258 | South Alabama street, and the lady of the house sent him out into the wood-shed to remove a pile of ashes that had collected there. Her six year old daughter was playing in the wood shed, and the tramp had been in there but a few minutes when the little girl began to scream. The mother hurried out to see what was the matter, and found that the scoundrel had torn the little girl's clothes nearly off her back. Before she reached the wood-shed the tramp left. It was evidently his intention to outrage the little girl.
